

TWENTY-EIGHTH CONGRESS,
FIRST SESSION.

THURSDAY, MARCH 7, 1844.
SENATE.

A communication was received from the War Department, transmitting the annual copy of the Army Register.

POST OFFICE.

Mr. MERRICK presented a memorial, numerously signed, which he said was one of many gratifying testimonials that the Committee on the Post Office had read, highly approving the bill for the reduction of postage, and asking the Senate to pass it.

Mr. WALKER submitted a resolution that the Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads be instructed to inquire into the expediency of regulating the receipt and transmission of foreign letters.

Mr. JOHNSON moved for the printing of some resolutions of the city of Lafayette, and the 2nd Municipality of New Orleans, and also that the Committee on Commerce inquire into the expediency of making Lafayette a port of entry.

COST JOHNSON'S PLAN.

Mr. WOODBRIDGE'S resolution for printing—number of House document No. 296 for the use of the Senate came up for consideration.

Mr. KING rose to object. The CHAIR observed that there was a blank to be filled, but Mr. K. thought this immaterial, and proceeded to say that this document (which he held in his hand) was one of the most extraordinary that ever emanated from a committee of either branch of Congress. The report itself, by Mr. W. C. Johnson, he admitted, was made with that gentleman's usual ability, but the rest of the document was the strongest mélange of toasts, letters, memorials, lists of names, &c. that ever was put together.

The CHAIR interposed to say that, under the rule, the document must be referred to the committee on Printing.

Mr. ALLEN said it contained the deadly proposition for assuming $200,000,000 of State debts, and he wished to know if there was no way of arresting the matter at this stage.

The CHAIR said it must be referred. Some conversation on this point followed between Messrs. King, Merrick, and McDuffie, but no appeal was taken from the Chair.

MASSACHUSETTS AND VIRGINIA.

Mr. ARCHER presented resolutions of the Legislature of Virginia on the subject of the Massachusetts resolutions proposing an amendment of the Constitution. The Virginia resolutions are exceedingly severe, and characterize the Massachusetts proposition as one to dissolve the Union, and desire that they may be returned to that State. Mr. A. moved the printing of the Virginia resolutions, together with those of Massachusetts, but at the request of Mr. Bagby, who designed, he said, to introduce a series of resolutions on this subject, the latter motion was deferred until to-morrow.

OREGON.

The debate on this subject was resumed by Mr. MILLER, Mr. Archer having declined to press it to a vote in consideration of Mr. Buchanan's desire to speak upon it.

N. B. The reporter wishes to state that, owing to his position, and the confusion that often prevails, it is impossible for him to hear many of the memorials and petitions that are presented, and this is particularly annoying, as the limits of the Standard preclude the possibility of reporting debates.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. C. JOHNSON moved that the Committee on Military Affairs have leave to summon Major Eaton before said committee as a witness, and the leave was granted.

Mr. B. BROWN offered a resolution calling for a communication alleged to have been sent to the Committee on Military Affairs by Gen. Scott. Objection was made by Mr. Hale, and the resolution was not received.

Several reports from committees were made, among them was a bill from the Committee on Public Buildings for making additions to the Treasury and Navy buildings.

RHODE ISLAND.

Mr. BURKE, of N. H., submitted a resolution that the Select Committee, to whom was referred a memorial from the Democratic members of the Rhode Island Legislature, have leave to send for persons and papers.

Mr. CAUSIN, of Md., (a member of the select committee,) saw no occasion for any such movement, and, indeed, none for the original reference of this matter to a select committee. The petitioners asked Congress to make certain complaints against the President of the U. S., and to take cognizance of the rights of certain members to their seats. If there was any fitness in the construction of committees, the subject ought to have been referred to the Committee on Elections. He believed, however, that Rhode Island was a regularly constituted State, and was represented here under the same authority as other States. What did the gentleman propose to do—to take action against the President of the U. S.—how? To take action against the members and State of Rhode Island—in what way would he do this?—by sending for persons and papers—what persons and what papers? Mr. C. said that nothing could come from pursuing this matter but a waste of time.

Mr. BURKE, of N. H., called Mr. C. to order, but as he was not out of order, he proceeded.

Mr. C. was in favor, if there was to be any action, of having the House, not the committee, act. He moved that the committee be discharged from the consideration of the whole subject.

A good deal of interest was manifested on this subject, and several members tried to get the floor.

Mr. CRANSTON, of R. I., said he could give the gentleman any information he desired. If there was any honesty of intention to get at knowledge in this matter, he called on the gentleman from New Hampshire to go on—go on, and send for persons and papers. He cared not how many persons and how many papers were sent for. He could have no motive for suppressing truth. Let the gentleman go on, therefore, and bring all the persons he could. He would like to see some persons brought here who voted the "People's Constitution," as it was called; that is, he would like to have this done if it was possible, but many graves would have to be opened, and many persons brought on who had not been in Rhode Island for four years prior to the balloting for the "People's Constitution." He would like to see his friend Dorr here, but it was not convenient for him to come just at this time. [Laughter.] He would like to see the hundreds of Irishmen here, if it were possible, who voted for the "People's Constitution," but they had never been heard of before or since. He would like to see the twenty-six Democratic members of the Rhode Island Legislature who had sent on this petition—all this he would like to see. He presumed there would not be any great difference of opinion between the gentleman from New Hampshire and any of the Dorrists brought on. The morning hour expired before Mr. C. had finished speaking.

ELECTION OF PRESIDENT AND VICE-PRESIDENT.

The unfinished business of yesterday was the consideration of the bill introduced by Dr. Duncan, and upon which the Dr. made an electioneering speech.

Mr. CLINGMAN had the floor, and the rules were suspended one hour to enable him to reply to the Dr.'s tirade of two hours. Mr. C. needed less time for this purpose, but he occupied the hour.

After Mr. C. concluded, the rules were suspended, on motion of Mr. McKay, for the purpose of going into Committee of the Whole. This motion, after some hesitation, was agreed to.

WEST POINT.

The bill making appropriations for carrying on this Academy was taken up.

Several amendments to the bill were made, and rejected.

Mr. HALE, of N. H., moved, in conformity with instructions from his State, which instructions he obeyed with alacrity, the abolition of the Academy, and made a speech for this purpose.

Mr. DANA, of N. Y., followed on the same side. He objected to the Academy chiefly as an aristocratic institution, where the sons of members of Congress and other Government functionaries were educated instead of orphans and the poor.

Mr. GIDDINGS stated here, that several years since he was called upon to fill a vacancy for his district; he had a son of sufficient age and qualifications, but would not nominate him, nor could he find any one in his county who would send a son there.

Mr. DANA remarked that the gentleman's district was peculiar in many respects (laughter).

When Mr. D. finished, the committee rose, and the House adjourned.

BY LAST NIGHT'S MAIL.

PENNSYLVANIA.—The Whig Convention of this State, on the twenty-second ballot, nominated Gen. Joseph Markle as the Whig candidate for Governor.

W. B. Reed, of Philadelphia, and John Strohm, of Lancaster, were appointed delegates for the State at large to the Whig National Convention.

Townsend Haines, of Chester, and Chester Butler, of Luzerne, were appointed electors for the State at large.

The Harrisburg Intelligencer says: "We congratulate our brethren upon the zeal, ardor, and unanimity evinced by the Whig Convention throughout its deliberations. Nothing, we are happy to say, in the slightest degree calculated to disturb the union and harmony of the party transpired during the sitting of the Convention. While all is discord and strife in the ranks of our opponents, we are prepared to rush into the thickest of the fight with a solid and unbroken phalanx."

The Locos, at the last accounts, had not begun to ballot for Governor. They have as pretty a fight in their organization as can well be imagined.

NEW ORLEANS ELECTION.—A special election was held in New Orleans on the 26th ult., for a State Senator, in place of Mr. Hoa, (Loco) deceased. Mr. Shidell, (Loco) was elected by 416 majority.

LOCAL NEWS.

THE CHARTER ELECTION.

Wednesday last being the day appointed by the Mayor of Washington, as chairman of the meeting of citizens, and in pursuance of a resolution passed by them, the citizens of the First, Second, Third, and Fifth Wards (the Fourth and Sixth having declined to open polls) assembled at the places designated, and deposited their votes for delegates to a convention for framing a charter for the city of Washington, to be laid before Congress for their consideration. The friends of each ticket conducted themselves with great propriety and good humor, and notwithstanding the large number at times collected together at the polls of the Second and Third Wards, we have heard of nothing tending to mar the occasion. Of course, where there were so many candidates, some were obliged to be left behind; and we hope all such will be able to bear it with a good grace, though some may have been a little too sanguine of success. And we must congratulate our friends on the utter prostration of such ultraism in respect to the charter as was evinced by the Locofocos. In the Third Ward, particularly, (where a regular Locofoco ticket was run) every effort was made that party bias and the tactics of party could effect, but without success. The "old Third" stood firmly, and maintained her title as the "Gibraltar of Whig principles," notwithstanding the disadvantage of having run two tickets. There is cause for regret in the absence from the polls of our oldest and most deeply interested citizens; interest, at least, if no higher motive, should have prompted them to perform their whole duty; and we hope an instructive lesson may be taught them—not to depend too much upon their strength, or the justice of their cause. But for the efforts of the hard working and industrious mechanics, who rallied when danger was at hand, we should now have but little to hope or care for in our municipal affairs. But we are satisfied as things now stand, and believe, from the character and experience of the gentlemen selected in the various Wards, that what the people want will be done, and that justice will be meted out equally to all sections. A large majority of those elected, (especially those in the Second and Third Wards,) are favorable to an extension of the right of suffrage to every citizen of Washington who shall have been assessed or registered on the books of the Corporation, and shall have paid a poll or other tax or license of a not less amount than $1; as well as of the taxation of bank and other stocks, and a liberal system of common school instruction. These objects accomplished, (with representation on population) we believe the people of Washington will be satisfied.

CRIMINAL COURT, March 7.—The following cases were tried, viz:

United States vs. John Thomas, a free negro, indicted, in two separate charges, for assaults on Benedict Herbert and Jane Smith, free blacks. Counsel for the accused, Chas. S. Wallach, Esq. Found guilty.

United States vs. Nancy Clark, a free negro, indicted for larceny. The prisoner was defended by W. W. Woodward, Esq. Verdict—not guilty.

United States vs. Giles Oliver, indicted for an assault with intent to kill a Mr. Martin on the 16th of November last. The prisoner was defended by Charles S. Wallach, Esq. Found guilty as indicted.

The case of the United States vs. William O'Brien, was next taken up. The prisoner in this case was indicted on two counts, viz: an assault, and an assault with intent to kill his stepfather, Bernard Brein, in Georgetown, in July last. Charles S. Wallach and Daniel Ratcliffe, Esqs., were the counsel for the prisoner. After the examination of a number of witnesses, Mr. Ratcliffe briefly addressed the jury in behalf of his client, and in relation to the evidence, setting forth that the law relative to this case had not been reached by the evidence, and that there had been no testimony exhibited to the Court even of the fact of an assault. After some few words between the counsel for the accused and the court, the case was given to the jury, who, in five minutes returned with a verdict of guilty.

Mr. Wallach then, on behalf of the prisoner, made a motion in arrest of judgment, which was granted. So the case goes to the Circuit Court. The Court then adjourned over to Saturday morning.
